Diabetes Drug Quiz: Do You Know Your Generics vs Trades?

Published on Nutritional Outlook (http://www.nutritionaloutlook.com)

1. Canagliflozin is the generic name for:
   A. Bydureon
   B. Invokamet
   C. Invokana
   D. Jardiance

   Click for answer and next question

   Answer: C. Invokana

2. Xigduo combines which of the following antihyperglycemic agents:
   A. Metformin/dapagliflozin
   B. Metformin/canagliflozin
   C. Linagliptin/empagliflozin
   D. Jardiance/saxagliptin

   Click for answer and next question

   Answer: A. Metformin/dapagliflozin

3. Which of the following SGLT2 inhibitors goes by the trade name Farxiga?
   A. Canagliflozin
   B. Dapagliflozin
   C. Empagliflozin

   Click for answer and next question

   Answer: B. Dapagliflozin

4. When you combine linagliptin and empagliflozin, you get:
   A. Jardiance
   B. Invokana
   C. Glyxambi
   D. Xigduo

   Click for answer and next question

   Answer: C. Glyxambi

5. The trade name Jardiance refers to which of the following?
   A. Tanzeum
B. Canagliflozin
C. Dulaglutide
D. Empagliflozin

Click for answer and next question

Answer: D. Empagliflozin

One for good measure. The trade name of the drug that combines metformin and dapagliflozin is:
A. Trulicity
B. Invokamet
C. Farxiga
D. Xigduo

Click for answer and quiz grade

Answer: D. Xigduo

Grades

5 correct: A+  You've been paying attention!
4 correct: B     Pretty sharp
3 correct: C     Average Joe
2 correct: D     Start carrying a laminated cheat sheet
1 correct: F     Nearby P & T notified
0 correct:     Remedial pharmacy tutoring for you!

Source URL:

Links: